RIL weighing bid for T-Mobile Netherlands

Deutsche Telekom declined to comment. A representative for Reliance could not immediately comment. Deutsche Telekom is working with Morgan Stanley on the sale of the business, which has attracted interest from private equity firms including Apex Partners, Apollo Global Management Inc., BC Partners, Providence Equity Partners and Warburg Pincus, Bloomberg News reported last month.

considering a bid for its competitor. Reliance is India's largest company by market value with a business that spans oil refining, petrochemicals, retail and telecommunications. A deal for T-Mobile Netherlands would represent a rare purchase in Europe and come as Ambani tries to transform Reliance from an old-economy conglomerate into a technology and e-commerce titan.

Deutsche Telekom entered the Dutch mobile-phone market in 2000, acquiring a stake in a venture with Belgacom SA and Tele Danmark. The business was renamed T-Mobile Netherlands in 2003 after the German carrier bought the remainder.

It considered a sale of the unit in 2015 to raise funds to buy wireless frequencies in the US, before deciding to keep the business. In 2019, T-Mobile Netherlands merged with Tele2 AB's operations in the country to create one of the biggest local carriers.

Airtel has built a formidable integrated product portfolio which will give the company an opportunity to tap emerging opportunities and deliver services at scale. "As the Indian economy digitises further, there are large opportunities ahead in areas such as data centres, submarine cable deployment, cloud services and cyber security. We will look to scale up our investments in these areas in the coming fiscal," Mittal said.

Need long overdue aid to maintain current 3+1 structure: Mittal

The telecom czar was alluding to the current telecom industry construct that has three private players and one state-owned operator. Mittal hoped that the government and the regulators will step in to ensure there is adequate balance in the industry and it remains a viable place for continued investments.

India continues to be a "promising destination" for long-term investors, he pointed out. "We have the opportunity to transform India into a global leader in the digital economy. We must continue to evolve our policies to realise these opportunities while encouraging investments, entrepreneurship and innovation through collaboration," Mittal said pledging that "Airtel is ready to play its part".

The telecom sector has been a chief catalyst in the transformation of India and its economy over the last 25 years, and played a seminal role during the pandemic by keeping a nation of over one billion connected, Mittal said terming it an "outstanding feat". Mittal said that even amid the pandemic and industry challenges, Airtel had demonstrated "remarkable resilience" and, in fact, came out "much stronger" during the last financial year.

"Our focus on executing our strategy while showing financial prudence has ensured that we deliver in the midst of perennial challenges," Mittal informed. The company continues to have a healthy balance sheet with "enough and more" headroom to continue investing strategically for growth, he emphasised.

"With digital platforms operating at scale across the organisation, we believe that we have all the building blocks for the next phase of our growth," the top boss of Airtel said. Given its large investments over the past few years,

Slowing economy: Fewer people saw income over ₹100 cr in AY21

The rate of economic expansion plunged to an 11-year low of 4% in FY20, compared with 6.5% in the previous year, as the growth in both private consumption and fixed investment slowed down drastically.

As per the information available with the CBDT, there is no legislative or administrative definition of the term billionaire under direct taxes, she said. To curb tax evasion, including through under-reporting of income, the income tax department has stepped up action in recent years. Such action includes searches, surveys, enquiries, assessment of income, levy of tax, interest, penalties, etc, and filing of prosecution complaints in criminal courts, wherever applicable.

Replying to another question, minister of state for finance Pankaj Chaudhary told the Rajya Sabha that ₹81,179 crore was yet to be released to the state governments towards fully compensating them for their goods and services tax (GST) revenue shortfall for the financial year 2020-21.

"The states will be paid full GST compensation as per the GST (Compensation to States) Act, 2017, for the transition period by extending the levy of compensation cess beyond 5 years to meet the GST revenue shortfall as well as servicing the loan borrowed through special window scheme for which GST Council has already given its approval," Chaudhary said.
